CAT FOOD

RANGE DESCRIPTION:

When it comes to eating meat or fish, your cat is a natural. Cats are obligate our true carnivores, meaning they require meat in their diet and need little carbohydrates. In the wild, cats usually prey on small animals, such as mice and birds. But as a pet, a cat might only be preying on a can of cat food so, they rely on their owners to be nourished with a diet as biologically appropriate as possible.

Our "MeatOnly" recipes have an outstanding palatability and remarkably high real meat or fish content, which means ONLY MEAT. We do not use carbohydrates, grains, or fillers. Your furry friends will crave them.

Additionally, wet food is typically much more appetizing than kibble to many dogs. It more closely resembles the fresh meat that dogs crave. It is especially good for picky eaters as an alternative or addition to dry food. Our "MeatOnly" range includes complete and complementary recipes for an interesting and varied diet. It contains high levels of animal protein which will guarantee an empty bowl and a happy tail.
